

Pledge to Democracy and Freedom

Preamble

Basically, there is no such thing as too much freedom (including freedom from harm by others) and too much democracy.

Anything that diminishes our freedom and power over our own lives is bad, by definition.

What would a society whose government values, supports and promotes freedom and genuine democracy look like? It's time we found out.

We know where the current system of concentrated power is taking us. And it's not a good place.

The Pledge

I, the undersigned, pledge my commitment to freedom (including uncensored free speech and open debate) and genuine democracy (where all decision-making is brought down to its lowest feasible level).

* Signing and returning this pledge with contact details to 9 Blandy Terrace, Pontycymer, Wales, CF32 8LD, UK makes you a member of We The People, a (soon to be) registered party in Wales aiming to replace all party political corruption from government. The Party exists with only nominal officers and without committees, policies, manifestos or any centralising or hierarchical structures (although we are free to arrange merry get-togethers).

New members will be supplied with a range of helpful information and materials to challenge elected seats in forthcoming elections, if they so wish.

If you achieve a seat in a government under the We The People ticket and subsequently neglect and abuse your Pledge to Democracy and Freedom may the people deal with you appropriately. You will be held accountable for your words and actions.
